UK – Schools in the North of England

Cheshire College South & West is a leading further education college in Cheshire, in the north of England. Renowned for their high-quality teaching and training, Cheshire College provides every single student with state-of-the-art facilities to enhance their learning in a supportive environment. This college prides itself on aiming to provide students with the skills, experience and qualifications that will prepare them for their future careers or further study.

New College Durham has a long educational history and is the largest further education college in the county —proudly boasting “outstanding” status from Ofsted. With a wide range of subject options, New College Durham offers a vibrant and culturally diverse student community and experience in the north-east! Home to a dedicated international office, a supportive and friendly learning environment is ensured for international students.

York College is one of the leading colleges in the UK, rated “outstanding” for its teaching standards, facilities, student support and exceptional results. Located in the heart of Yorkshire, students have a fantastic opportunity to explore the north of England. This excellent college has an onsite theatre used as a training venue by students studying Backstage Arts, Music and Music Technology, and it also offers a number of sports and enrichment opportunities!
